Young Farmers & Ranchers Conference
January 19-21, 2018
“Springing Outward and Upward”
Days Inn in Thermopolis, WY

TENTATIVE AGENDA

Friday, January 19, 2018

- 11:00 AM      Registration / Check-In
- 12:30 PM      Welcome
- 1:00 PM      “Modern Ag in a Facebook Culture”--Dr. Gary Sides
Can you defend and promote the use of the technologies used in modern agriculture? Can you defend the use of GMO crops or antibiotics and other technologies used in livestock production? Do the nutrients in beef and dairy products belong in the human diet? Do the saturated fats contained in beef and dairy products cause coronary heart disease or are they actually heart healthy? What are the REAL causes of obesity, heart disease and diabetes? Does livestock production lead to global warming and catastrophic climate change? Is there a nutritional and health benefit from organic/natural foods vs. conventional foods? Are you aware that if the U.S. agricultural system used the same technologies today as what was available to us in the 1950's, that we would only be able to feed HALF of our current U.S. population? If you cannot or will not take an active role in the promotion and defense of your way of life, who will? What can we do to ensure a viable agricultural industry for our children and grandchildren?
- 2:30 PM      Networking Break
- 3:00 PM      What is Wyoming Farm Bureau and a Legislative Update
- 3:30 PM      “Outward Succession”--Kyle and Stacy Berger
- 4:00 PM      Networking Break
- 4:30 PM      “Conflict Management”--Lindsey Calvert, American Farm Bureau Federation
Every relationship experiences conflict, whether it's a committee, colleague or family member. The key to conflict is not to avoid it, but to learn how to identify and use conflict to achieve successful outcomes that everyone can live with. Come learn how personal conflict styles work and how to choose the appropriate style for any situation.
